

Instructions Elicit After PreK – K – 1st

Hello, my name is Isabelle/Juan. What is your name? [ask each child]

I brought you some games to play. Do you want to play?

OK

The Tower game

Our first game is called the “Tower game”. In this game, XX has a red boy and XX has a green boy. Both of you have to decide in which floor to put your boy without telling the other. It is important that you do not tell each other. Now, do you want to know how to win this game? You win if you put your boy in the same floor or in a higher floor as your partner.

I am going to put a wall between you so that you can decide where to put your boy without your partner knowing.

Are you ready? Ok, now you can choose where to put your boy.

[Go to child #1, note the position]

[Go to child #2, note position]

[Go back to child #1, ask:]

Can you point at the floor you think XX put his boy?

[Note answer Child #1]

[Go back to child #2, ask:]

In which floor do you think XX put his boy?

[Note answer Child #2]

OK, now, let's find out

Matching colors

This game is called “matching colors”. In this game you have 5 cards. These are XX’s cards and these are YY’s cards. You each need to pick one card without telling the other. How do we win in this game?

You both win if you pick cards that have the same colors. Now, I will put a wall between you. You can take as much time as you want to look at all the cards. When you are ready, pick a card and raise your hand.

[Go to child #1, note card]

[Go to child #2, note card]

[Go back to child #1, ask:]

Can you point me the card you think YY chose?

[Note answer Child #1]

[Go back to child #2, ask:]

Can you point me the card you think YY chose?

[Note answer Child #2]

Let’s find out. Take the divider out

Fighting colors

This game is called “Fighting colors”. In this game you have 4 cards. These are XX’s cards and these are YY’s cards. As before you need to pick one card without telling the other.

Now, both of you win if you pick cards that have different colors. I will again put a wall between you. You can take as much time as you want to look at the cards. When you are ready, pick a card and raise your hand.

[Go to child #1, note card]

[Go to child #2, note card]

[Go back to child #1, ask:]

Can you point me the card you think ## chose?

[Note answer Child #1]

[Go back to child #2, ask:]

Can you point me the card you think ## chose?

[Note answer Child #2]

Let's find out. Take the divider out

Lucky shape

This game is called "Lucky shape". In this game, you will not play with each other. You will each play with me. We will all make our choices without telling the others.

I have 4 different shapes. You have 4 cards.

In this game, I win if I pick the shape that fits in the puzzle. XX, you win if you pick the same color as the color of the shape I pick. This is the same for you, XX: you win if you pick the same color as the color of the shape I pick.

Let's bring the dividers and we will all make our choices.
